HORTICULTURE

Of all the Horticulture Exhibits at the New York Flower Show, one of the most outstanding is always that of the Brooklyn Botannic Garden. That last one was an exhibition of grafting and was staged in a most interesting and instructive manner. Any questions on the subject could be most intelligently answered by the staf of the garden. Many plants to reach the perfection that we expect of them are grafted on the stock or root of different varieties, for the purpose of obtaining greater hardiness, vigor or in the case of fruit trees the making of dwarfed varieties. Grafting is quite easily done and quite interesting garden experience.
