FACTS ON THE FOURTH

There have been more lives lost in celebrating America's independence than there were in winning it.

That startling fact was revealed at a conference of the mayors of this country, and was part of a plea for a safe and sane Fourth. History says that only 4,044 Americans were killed in the entire Revolutionary War, but during the thirty celebrations held between 1900 and 1930, 4,290 were killed, and sixteen times as many injured as were wounded in our battle for independence. Contending that there were no such things as "harmless" fireworks, the members of the Mayors' Conference called attention to the 7,768 casualties in 1935, adding that two-thirds were caused by the common fire cracker.

Louis Resnick, director of Industrial Relations for the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, recently made public part of the results of a safety study being conducted by Dr. Leland E. Cofer, head of the accident prevention committee of the American Museum of Safety. Mr. Resnick pointed out that an analysis of 3,000 questionnaires showed that in last year's celebration 817 children between the ages of one and ten were injured and 13 were killed. He said that when Dr. Cofer added up all the casualties among persons from one to twenty years of age he found that 20 had been killed and 2,069 injured.

Declaring that the survey disclosed that the common firecracker, because of its large sale, was the most dangerous type, Mr. Resnick went on to explain that "the study had borne out the conviction that there are no such things as harmless fireworks."

The conference recommended strict municipal ordinances to forbid the use of fireworks except under official permit.

SAFETY FIRST

C. H. Fleming, executive secretary of the Pyrotechnic Industries, Inc., an association representing manufacturers of 90% of this country's output, took issue with Mr. Resnick by declaring that the "large proportion of accidents" could be traced to certain dangerous items. He recommended that a joint commission be appointed by the Museum of Safety and the manufacturers to study the problem of what items should be eliminated.

Asserting that general prohibition of fireworks would run counter to the spirit of the holiday, Mr. Fleming contended that the majority of accidents were due to "gross misuse" of the fireworks and "uncivilized behavior" in handling them. He said that such abuses should be corrected through education.

As another step in curbing accidents, Mr. Fleming recommended that the products of all manufacturers both here and abroad be inspected by the Federal Bureau of Explosives, not only as to their hazards in transportation but also as to their safety for general distribution. He said that much "vicious merchandise" would be condemned in this way.

There will be fireworks and fire-crackers here, but let's plan not to have any casualties. It is all a case of using a little common sense. If a fire-cracker or a sky-rocket doesn't go off at once... don't pick it up and look at it... the fuse may just be slow... and even if your roman candles all turn out to be duds it's a lot better to miss a bang or a shower of golden stars than an eye or a hand.

The Society for the Prevention of Blindness, of which Miss Helen Keller is honorary vice president, advocates state and local laws prohibiting the manufacture and sale of fireworks, without permit. It points to the Baltimore ordinance as a model. It caused a sharp reduction in casualties.

MUSINGS OF AN ANCIENT

Mr. Pitkin has called attention to the fact that life begins at forty. Perhaps he is right, though mine began to be adventurous at thirteen. There is one thing I have noticed since turning forty, however, and that is that life has a way of repeating itself.. or at least mine has.

I was so completely at peace with the world as I sat on the beach the other afternoon, that for a time I was hardly conscious of my thoughts. On the horizon was the smoke of an unseen steamer, closer, the sail of a small boat. To the right and left the headlands seemed to shut out such turbulencies as nominations, stock markets, radio programs, and the similar worries.

Suddenly I realized that this was not the first time I had felt supremely at ease. My memory went lazily back and stopped at nineteen-twenty-nine. Then, too, I had escaped from a desk, packed a bag, -but that year I headed across the Atlantic. London is always fun in the spring, the tennis in Paris was magnificent. Then an editor asked me for articles on Ireland, and I drove two thousand miles around the land of the Bards. One day, after several weeks, I found myself on the strand at Rosslare; a long stretch of sand and pebbles...headlands...smoke of a steamer on the horizon. Thousands of miles away was New York and all it stood for in those hectic of nineteen-twenty-nine- but I was there on an almost deserted beach, not knowing, not caring, what was going on in the nerve-bitten outside world.

The first evening that I saw the beach at Shoreham a strangely delightful nostalgia crept over me...the other afternoon I realized why. Here in Shoreham I was reliving those happy in Ireland...days when the world began and ended with two great headlands, and what counted most was the sun and the sea.

Who says we never recapture high spots in our lives? Of course we do.

A subscriber recommends Tobins Road-side Stand as an excellent place to stop for refreshments. They won the Long Island Chamber of Commerce award. The stand is about 4 miles east of Smithtown on route 25. No liquor or beer is sold. It is an attractive place for families.

EVENTS ON THE FOURTH IN SHOREHAM

The Fourth of July in Shoreham has begun every year for twenty two years with the annual parade, headed by the mayor of the village. With considerable shouting and bugle calls all the children of the village and those who are to march in the parade assemble outside the home of Mrs. A. W. Varian. There Mr. and Mrs. Varian have always appeared with flags and favors for every youngster. With the mayor in the lead, (usually in tophat) the parade will proceed to the ball field the scene of the annual Fourth of July ball game. This year Tommy Miles and his Lights will battle to the finish Jack Hagenah and his Darks.

Beginning at 2:30 the crowd will gather at the tennis courts to watch the singles and doubles elimination contest. A Badminton exhibition is also planned. Bicycle races and running races have been arranged for all age groups among the young people. There will be water sports for all ages, and volley ball on the beach.

Shoreham has four new tennis courts this season. The old tennis court has been shortened and marked for Badminton. In the Club House is ping-pong and full equipment for all the scheduled athletic events. Mr. J. W. Haslett is in charge of the athletic arrangements.

In the evening of the Fourth, after a fireworks display, Wes Oliver and his Vikings will be at the Club to provide the music for dancing.

Shoreham's weekly Song Service Sunday evening, July 5th will be led by Mr. C. F. Hopkins.

The next Midweek dance, Wednesday, July 8th. will begin at 7:30.

On the evening of July 11 the Shoreham Country Club will hold a 20th Anniversary Masquerade Dance. Guests are asked to wear any costume they wish but the clothes of twenty years ago will doubtless be featured. Masks will be worn until after the Grand March, during which the orchestra will play a medley of the songs of twenty years ago. Following this President Frederick Wall Firm will lead the new generation in a very modern march.

4th. JULY SPORTS CARNIVAL

This Saturday holds in store for the members of the Field and Tennis Club at Wading River, a great many competitive games and events both on horse and on foot. In the morning at ten o'clock there will be tournaments of different sorts including badminton, archery, croquet, golf driving, ping-pong and horseshoes. In the afternoon at three o'clock the horse events will take place. Among these will be a pig race, potato race, balloon polo, a trotting race, running race, doughnut race and a water race.

Thirty horses have been entered for the horse events and show in the afternoon. Awards will be made to winners and followers uppers in all field and horse events.

The club has distributed the programs for these events among its members.

There will be polo as usual, at the club field on the Sunday following.

NEW HOUSE

A new summer residence is being erected on the eastern end of Shoreham Estates by James E. Zilli, President of the James E. Zilli Construction Company, 101 Park Avenue New York. The site, recently purchased, is directly south of the Frank E. Stamer place and a beautiful view of the Sound is to be had from this location. It will be a stucco finished house and about 57 feet in width. This will make three new houses on the Shoreham Estates.

UP TO THE MINUTE

Last week's "New Yorker" featured the fact that Kerbey Hawkes has been helping Alf Landon with his radio technique. The Scribe knew it weeks ago...we published it last week...which makes us feel that we are not at all behind the times.

WHO THOUGHT THIS UP?

A thrifty young fellow of Shoreham
Made brown paper trousers and woreham,
He looked nice and neat
Till he bent in the street
To pick up a pin, then he toreham.

GARDEN CLUB NOTES

BELLE TERRE

The second in the series of three lectures offered by the Belle Terre Garden Club in their Exhibitor's Course, will be delivered Monday morning, July 6 at 11 AM at the Belle Terre Golf and Country Club. The speaker is Mrs. Grace Coyle who will speak on Flower Arrangements.

SHOREHAM

The Scribe, having been incorrectly informed as to the list of officers of the Shoreham Garden Club for 1936, herewith gives a corrected list:

President	Mrs. A. J. Sackett
Vice President	Mrs. R. D. Warden
Secretary	Mrs. E. P. Gridley
Treasurer	Mrs. C. D. Waters
Historian	Mrs. E. J. Oliver

The first regular monthly meeting of the Shoreham Garden Club for 1936 season was held Monday June 29th. at the home of Mrs. Arthur J. Sackett, its president. There were sixteen members present.

The committee reported on what had been done toward making Shoreham beautiful such as cleaning up along the roadside leading into Shoreham and the oval - and the triangle at the head of the road.

Plans were discussed for a Garden Party to be held in August.

Mrs. Randall Warden, who was sent as a delegate from the New Jersey Federation of Garden Clubs to the convention of the National Council of State Garden Clubs at Dallas, Texas, spoke at the close of the meeting. She told to a deeply interested audience of her trip to Texas - the stops on the way at old Charleston's beautiful gardens and at New Orleans, and of the convention itself.

There will be an Executive Committee meeting Wednesday, July 8th at 11 AM at the home of Mrs. Arthur J. Sackett.

SUWASSETT

The Suwassett Garden Club held its annual summer Garden Party last Thursday afternoon, July 2nd at the home of Mrs. Forrest Raynor who was hostess for the occasion. Over 100 people attended. There were twenty-nine tables for cards. The prizes, one for each table, were venetian glass vases. Flowers were arranged by a committee under Mrs. Addison S. Pratt.

THE DANCE

There are several dance courses in progress in Shoreham this season. All ages are participating, from the tiny tots to their mothers, and all types of dancing are being studied from elementary fundamentals to the bar work of the ballet technique, including tap and tango. Helen E. Hughes, who is teaching this work is doubtless responsible for this urge. Her classes are:

- Children under 10 - Fundamentals
Tuesdays 10-11 AM
- Girls Limbering, beginners tap and tango.
Tuesdays and Thursdays 11-12 AM
- Ladies Limbering
Wednesdays 11-12 AM
- Elementary Ballroom 7:30-8:00 PM
- Intermediate Ballroom 8:30-9:00 PM
Wednesday evenings
- Private work by arrangement.

The ballroom classes are a feature which the Shoreham Country Club offers to its Junior members at their Midweek Dance.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Mexican Rice

- 1 cup uncooked rice
- $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. sliced bacon cut into small pieces
- 1 green pepper cut fine
- 1 Spanish onion, sliced thin

Brown all the above ingredients in a deep skillet or pan. When brown add a can or jar of shrimp with the liquor and a can of tomatoes. Allow to simmer until rice is done - about 20 minutes if white rice is used, a little longer if the brown rice is used. If necessary add boiling water.

This makes a good one-dish meal for luncheon or supper. Serves six.

The above recipe was relayed straight from Mexico by

Evelyn Q. Miles

DANCE AT FIELD AND TENNIS CLUB

On the night of the Fourth there will be a dance at the Wading River Field and Tennis Club starting at nine o'clock. Beverly Tyler and his orchestra of eight pieces will furnish the music and Veronica Mattfield will sing.

PRIZE-WINNERS

Mr. John W. Haslett, chairman of the Athletic Committee of the Shoreham Country Club announces that the medals won in the Fourth of July athletic events will be awarded at the following Midweek Dance on the evening of July 8th at the Club.

The Thurber Lumber Co., Inc. supplied the lumber and building materials used in the additions and garages added to many of the houses in Shoreham this spring, also for decorating the interior of the Club.

SHIPWRECK IN WADING RIVER

Master Clifford Rowley, Mr. Hart and Mr. Clifford Rowley met with a little accident Wednesday morning. The three were in the act of launching a good sized row boat in anticipation of a pleasant ride, when Master Clifford, who was pushing the boat from shore, disappeared. It seems a large wave hit the boat. The boat containing much Sound, drifted up on the beach and Master Clifford was easily located by the appearance of two dripping feet wriggling in the air. Master Clifford suffered a wet "second best" suit and pair of shoes.

FIREWORKS AT SHOREHAM

The Shoreham Country Club will again have the beautiful fireworks display as of old. The display will begin at nine o'clock Saturday night and will be set up on the beach in front of the Club House. The supply is a generous one and promises to be a magnificent sight.

The bridge connecting the Club with the opposite side of the cliff has been pronounced unsafe for any unusual weight and so will be closed off Saturday evening during the fireworks display. Ropes will be stretched around the area in which the fireworks are set off, to prevent any accident.

BELLE TERRE'S BEST RECIPES

Families of Belle Terre have given their very finest recipes to be compiled in a recipe book which will be ready by the middle of this month. It will contain 400 recipes in the newest fine binding. It is to be sold by the members of the Belle Terre Garden Club, the proceeds being used to complete the Pergolas, part of their civic betterment program.

SHOREHAM'S MARINERS

Two of Shoreham's daring mariners, Jack Kohlmann and Bill Davis, left Tuesday afternoon for Connecticut. They went in Jack's motor-boat, and made the opposite shore in an hour and a half. They landed in New Haven and had supper there at the Hotel Taft. That evening they went over to West Haven in the boat to visit Playland, the Coney Island of Connecticut. That night the boys slept in the boat, or rather tried to. They did finally get to sleep, but upon waking up in the middle of the night, they discovered that they were parked on a rock several feet out of the water. But they just rolled over and went to sleep again. In the morning they had to push their boat twenty-five yards or more before they could reach deep enough water in which to start their motor.

They left Connecticut at about six o'clock and landed in Port Jefferson at a little after seven. They had breakfast in Port and then came back to Shoreham. Both boys said that their greatest need at the moment was sleep... So they played around for the rest of the day and all that nite.
