THIS IS LONG ISLAND

Part II

Meade C. Dobson

AGRICULTURE:

Long Island is one of the oldest farm regions in New York State. Its 2,548 farms produce annually from $10,000,000 to $16,000,000 worth of vegetables, poultry and dairy products dependent upon the market prices. Long Island is famous for its potatoes, cauliflower and Long Island ducks.

FISHING:

Commercial fishing for both deep-sea fish and shellfish returned to Long Island fisherman $2,333,347 in 1932 with approximately the same return in 1934; 53,459,493 pounds of fish and 11,406,725 pounds of shellfish were sold in 1932 in the New York market.

AN EQUABLE CLIMATE:

The climate of Long Island is characterized by mild winters and breeze-tempered summers, extended autumns, comparative freedom from sudden and extreme changes and a generous supply of moisture equally distributed throughout the year. The main climatic control is the Atlantic Ocean with its tempering influence, modified by the prevailing westerly winds from the mainland. A five-year daily record showed 77.6 per cent of sunshine per month; average monthly day temperature, 60.9 degrees; average monthly night temperature, 39.2 degrees; average monthly precipitation, 3.6 inches.

LONG ISLAND AND THE WORLD'S FAIR

Selection of a site in the Borough of Queens for the proposed New York City World's Fair in 1939 is of tremendous importance to all Long Island. It will benefit immeasurably from a world's exposition within its borders, and the location chosen on the Flushing River Meadows will bring about improvements that in themselves are vital to the future growth of the Island. The planning of the Flushing Meadows for exposition purposes and ultimate use as a great city park, assures the highest type of development.

THE STORY OF BADMINTON

ORIGIN

The name of the game is taken from the country seat of the Duke of Beaufort in Gloucestershire. The game itself appears to have been first played in England about 1873. There are many traditional stories that surround its origin. One of the most interesting tells of how some British Army officers, home on leave from their station in India, were visiting the Duke of Beaufort at Badminton. After a turkey dinner one of the officers proceeded to demonstrate a popular Indian pastime by sticking some turkey feathers in a champagne cork and batting it about to his fellow officers. The Duke was so pleased with the sport that he popularized it.

Badminton is definitely an adaptation of the old game of Battledore and Shuttlecock which was popular in Europe around the Fourteenth Century. It has been traced even farther back to the early civilization of China and Japan and like most everything else, the Greeks had a word for it.

The name of the Indian game is Poona and the first semblance of official rules for the game appeared in 1876 under the title of "Rules for the Playing of Poona". The English Badminton Association was founded in 1895 and its rules were based on a code of rules drawn up by the Bath Badminton Club in 1887 which in turn were taken from the Poona rules of 1876.

THE SHUTTLECOCK AND THE RACQUET

The bats were at one time made entirely of wood and were of course very clumsy. Now however, they are usually made of light ash frames and strung with gut or silk.

The shuttlecocks or "Birds" as they are called in this country were originally made of wood with a kind of corona of feathers. Now they are made of cork and the best of goose feathers.

EARLY BACKGROUND

It was originally not a game of great speed and skill but a suitable accompaniment to a tea party, like croquet, for ex-

NOTICE: Shoreham Village Song Service

The doors of the Club Rooms in the Village building are open Sunday evenings during the summer season from 7:30 until 9:00 o'clock for Song Services beginning promptly at 8 o'clock.

Everyone is earnestly invited to attend, whether residents or visitors, and irrespective of club membership, creed, race or color; and will be cordially welcomed.

No admission is charged and no contributions asked for or expected other than the right spirit and a generous voice.

M. H. L.

This week's Song Service will be conducted by Mr. E. W. Oliver.

Mr. and Mrs. F. K. M. Hunter arrived in Frankfurt-on-the-main in Germany last Tuesday on the dirigible Von Hindenburg. Their time was 42 hours and 53 minutes, this is 2 hours and 38 minutes better than the best previous record.

There once was a man from Calcutta
Who smeared both his tonsils with buttah,
Thus converting his snore
From a terrible roar
To a soft, oleaginous muttah.

DANGER !

Danger threatens the triangular shaped intersection at Wading River's general store at all times. This fact was accentuated early Tuesday afternoon when two local residents were involved in a collision there. Mrs. Edna Trapnell was proceeding south on Sound Ave. in contemplation of a left turn towards the road, running opposite the Greenbrier Inn when a misunderstanding of actions caused William Cybulski driving west toward the store to meet with Mrs. Trapnell practically head on. The Trapnell auto being the lighter of the two cars, suffered considerably more damage than the heavier vehicle driven by Cybulski. It was alleged late on the same day that action would be taken in regard to the damage and Edwin Lapham, a budding young attorney-to-be, was consulted by one of the operators for legal advice.

Perhaps this unpleasant occurrence will awaken the townspeople to employ forceful signs and police for the holiday traffic. If this is not done there will eventually be accidents more tragic than this recent one at that intersection.

CONGRATULATIONS

The Scribe is very happy to be able to offer congratulations to two Shorehamites.

Mayor LaGuardia has appointed Rufus E. McGahen, at present Budget Director for New York City, to the Board of Water Supply. Mr. McGahen's new position is a life time job, for a member of the Board of Water Supply can be removed from his post only for misconduct or incompetency, after a hearing on such charges. The appointment becomes effective August 17.

Cary D. Waters, President of the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce has also been honored by being asked to be one of thirty prominent citizens to form the nucleus of the permanent committee to assist the law enforcement agencies in their fight against racketeering. Harry F. Guggenheim former ambassador to Cuba was invited by Mayor LaGuardia to be chairman of the new organization.

SHOREHAM GARDEN CLUB MEETING

The Shoreham Garden Club held a general meeting at the Shoreham Country Club last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Addison Strong Pratt, who was the Chairman of the New York International Flower Show, was the speaker. Her topic was "What the Judge Expects of the Exhibitor". She told her hearers, in planning a flower show to have as few classes as possible each clearly defined in simple language to avoid misunderstanding. Mrs. Edward F. Stevens, Mrs. Claude V. Pallister and Mrs. Randall D. Warden had prepared exhibits in specific classes. These were criticized and discussed by Mrs. Pratt in connection with her subject. The exhibits were so beautiful and so well arranged that only good could be said of them.

FIELD AND TENNIS CLUB TOURNAMENT

In the Wading River Field and Tennis Club tournament tennis matches held last Sunday, Samuel Carter and Victor Heatley defeated William Meier and Philip Gregory at the Split Rock Court; Russell Meier and Edward Bachman Jr. defeated Miss Ruth Gosman and Leroy Valentine at the Keillor Court; Mrs. Walter Lippmann and Selden Heatley defeated Halsey Gosman and Walter Lippmann at the Lippmann court. The first two matches were particularly exciting, running to 44 and 35 games respectively in three sets.

This annual tournament started August 1

TRAVELER AT LARGE

Channing Pollock will leave Shoreham to begin a lecture tour at West Point October 4th. He will go as far south as Huston, Tex. west to Utah and will finish December 15 at Town Hall, N. Y. C. He will speak every night. December 16 he sails on the Queen Mary with his family for a hard earned holiday which includes Christmas in London. December 26 the Viceroy of India carries them to India for a month, then to Java, Burma and Bali and the Dutch East Indies - the Phillipines, China, Japan, Honolulu, across to San Francisco - through the Canal to South America and HOME, which for Mr. Pollock means his beloved Shoreham. Mr. Pollock plans to speak only twice during the trip abroad, at the universities of Shanghai and Honolulu.

A polo team from the Wading River Field and Tennis Club will go to Smithtown on Sunday to play a selected team of Smithtown Club members at 3:30 o'clock. The team to represent Wading River is tentatively composed of Myron B. Keillor, Selden (Bud) Heatley, Peter Gille and Sidney Culver.

FROM N. Y. AMERICAN; AUG. 13

Ginger Rogers' second solo-starrer for Radio, to be made after the next Astaire-Rogers film, will be "Summer Hail". Pan Berman has just purchased the Valerie Savage best-seller for Ginger, and Edith Meiser is already at work on the screen play. The story presents the star as the daughter of an erratic family whose doings keep her on uneasy street. There'll be both giggles and strong drama, but no dancing for Ginger, whose radio contract calls for four pictures a year - two with Astaire and two alone.

Valerie will be heard from again soon.

Under the guidance of Mrs. J. Thomas Miles and Mrs. George Beatty, and with the institution of the weekly senior and junior hostesses, the Midweek Wednesday evening dances at the Shoreham Country Club have developed into a gay and very popular party for the junior members of the club from tots to teens and twenties.

Last Wednesday evening, prize winners in the games played were Susan Miles, Nancy Thurber, Mary Lambert and Jeannette Sarkeny.

Next Wednesday Mrs. Geysa Sarkeny will be senior hostess and Miss Ann S. Waters junior hostess.

ALMOST NEWS

Shoreham thought it was going to have some excitement the other day when the village fire siren, which is located at the home of the fire chief, Mr. Wesley Sherman, rent the air. People looked about the sky for smoke, they sniffed the air, others rushed to the nearest likely-to-burn-down house, some already said "I told you so", and still others jumped in trolleys and taxis shouting "A bottle of Hildick's apple-jack if you get me to Wes Sherman's in ten seconds flat!". But picture the dismay when we learned it was all a joke - or worse - a mistake.

It seems that a friend had asked to use Wesley's phone, and was told to crank the thing first. She cranked "a" thing. It was the siren button though.

NOT A FUED

Many Shorehamites have been wondering what all the shooting was about during the last week. We wish to reassure them. It was not a real old Shoreham fued, nor even a cocktail party. This terrifying racket, which sounded like shotguns, was produced by Tom Hughes' famous fire engine, the "Red Peril" - much to the driver's disgust.

SHOREHAM GARDEN CLUB GARDEN PARTY

August 22nd is the date set for the Shoreham Garden Club Garden Party. It will be held this year in the garden of Mrs. Cary D. Waters from four to seven P. M. A repetition of last year's tremendous success is anticipated. A floor show and dancing will be among the numerous attractions. Tickets are $1.00 including refreshments, and 25¢ for children. There is to be a gate prize.

NIGHT CLUB NIGHT AT SHOREHAM CLUB

Night Club Night at the Shoreham Country Club is an event looked forward to by all who have participated in these frolics in other years. It is announced for September 5th.

One of the numbers on the varied program planned by Mrs. T. K. Elliott, chairman of the entertainment committee, will be a short play, "The Milk of Human Kindness", written by Mrs. Rufus A. Vance. The cast will be announced later.

Mr. "Junior" Pallister arrived home from his recent sailing trip with a beard and a crew cut. He managed to do away with the beard but has not been able to do anything about the haircut. The ladies miss the beard. In connection with handsome beards we must not forget to mention the "pirate-like" black mustache being patiently raised by the gallant Mr. Jack Hagenah. He says that it adds to his prestige.

NAUGHTY FISH HOOKS

Mr. Jack Haslett suffered an injury several days ago from a fish hook which became embedded in his hand while fishing in the Sound. The hook was removed at the Mather Hospital in Port Jefferson. Mr. Jack Hagenah had a similar accident but with less serious results.

Among the world's villages there are many, of course, more quaint and picturesque, more formal and regular, finished and self-conscious, more impressive with "residences" and "places"; but, in our wide observation, we have seen none more naturally, simply, unaffectedly beautiful than the Village of Shoreham. Avenues of majestic elms and umbrageous maples give characteristic distinction to many American villages. Shoreham's roadside trees are mainly survivals of deforestation and old-time orchards. But this naturalness and want of arrangement lends a distinctive charm that makes Shoreham unique.

But this very lack of order and plan tends to disorder unless spontaneous growth is curbed and kept within bounds, to give shade and color, but not to encroach, interfere or render unsightly. Our roads were laid down more than twenty years ago. They were made sufficiently wide for the inconsiderable traffic of the early automobile days. Today's universality of motor cars demands every inch of width the pavement allows. The low-hanging branches of trees and the outreaching of shrubs and outer growth, sometimes noxious and harmful, call for considered lopping and pruning to avoid appearance of neglect, reproachful to any scene. Moreover, the presence of dead, dying and decaying trees, here and there lengthen the neglectful aspect, giving unfortunate first impressions to strangers, visitors and prospective residents. In fact no one cares to see them.

Since the village roadway allows for ultimate expansion to several feet on either side of the existing curb, it is properly the duty of the authorities to set back all elements that obstruct or look unkempt along the way. A detailed study has been made by the "road commis-

SHOW AT OLDFIELD COUNTRY CLUB

The Oldfield Country Club at Oldfield Point resounds daily, even nightly, to the tap, tap of tapping feet, the softer sounds of the ballet, and voices raised in song, all to the accompaniment of music both gay and hot. There is to be a musical revue produced on August 28 and 29 and rehearsals are in full swing. All the countryside for miles around has given up its youth of both sexes to make up the cast.

It is all in a good cause. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the St. Charles Home for Crippled Children.

The Production is being staged under the direction of Geo. McKanney.

The line up for one of the routines we watched included the Misses Barbara Kiendl Ruth Melville, Dorothy Clay, Lauraine Child Christine Brown, Gwyneth McLaren, Peggy Melville, Cornelia Miller, Barbara Peck, Lois Monypenny, Eluned McLaren, Betsy Kerr Helen Chandler, Gladys Koch, Vivian Galler, Penelope Seaver, Frances Lefferts, Jacqueline Smith, Helen Tomkins, Irene Chat terton, Dorothy Phraner, Audrey Thrazher, Florence Sellinger, Lassie Zenke.

Mrs. Hugh Andrews has done the casting.

Mrs. George Beatty, chairman of the entertainment committee for the Shoreham Garden Club Party, will hold a meeting at her home Sunday morning at 11 o'clock to rehearse the floor show. All who are interested to help in this undertaking will be welcomed.

ample. If one played it in the good days of Queen Victoria it was in a choker collar, Prince Albert coat and, if one is really to be correct, in a high hat. Like croquet, there was very little exercise attached to the game. One could bat the shuttlecock back and forth with all the dignity of an Archbishop. The present game is said to require far more lasting power than Tennis. SUITABILITY OF THE GAME FOR BEGINNERS

Unlike most games Badminton appears to be easy to the beginner. It is only as he progresses in his technique that the game becomes really difficult and by that time he is sufficiently interested to really take the game seriously.

FAIR EXCHANGE

Mr. Jack Kohlmann has recently made a change in outboard motorboats. This was accomplished through an exchange with the owner of the well-known "Baby Whale", of Rocky Point. It was a fair exchange; Jack desired a speedier boat and the feller from Rocky Point wanted a boat that would carry several passengers in comfort. Both members of the bargain, so far as is known are happy, though Jack at first had a little trouble. This was remedied by removing the muffler of the motor which resulted in both greater noise and greater speed.

SOME-UP-TO-DATE-INDIAN-EXPRESSIONS

In the middle of research work Mr. Stitch reached the conclusion that something should be done toward bringing those hyphenated Indian names up to date. To illustrate what he had in mind he seized a pencil and dashed off a representative list;

Wee-wup-ho-wow-wow ... He who is always borrowing cigarettes.

Eeek-mon-koo-moo-booh ... The lady who puts too much celery in her chicken salad.

Chee-la-mut ... Fathead.

Wet -ma-pheet ... Johnny who has the habit of falling down in emergencies.

Too-doo-tick-tick ... He who is too lazy to move out of the sun.

Huh-huh ... He who never seems to work but always has money.

Sum-kid-boy ... She who is always cutting recipes out of the paper but never uses any of them.

Ges-now-nuff-heh ... He who goes fishing and catches nothing.

sioner", and duly reported to the Mayor. Accordingly, this month, measures are in progress to cut away and cut down on all margins - the advantage in space, visibility, orderliness and cleanliness is already evident.

Needless to say, private planting is in no way to be interfered with without permission, though shearing is often quite legitimate to the advantage of growing things. As far as possible, permission of all owners of contiguous properties is asked before cutting is ventured, and all work is done under the eye of the "commissioner" himself. The active participation of every owner is enlisted, and his own hand in the job is invited within his discretion.

Shoreham's homes are beautiful, their gardens and lawns; everyones' cooperation is solicited that the roadsides are preserved in keeping.

E. F. S.

Mrs. J. Thomas Miles will be in charge of the flower arrangements for this week at the Shoreham Country Club.

Demands persist for a beach clock here.
