SHOREHAM, NEW YORK, FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1937

FIFTEEN CENTS

Masquerade Attended By A Full House

The Masquerade that was held last Saturday night, July 17, was the best that has been held in Shoreham for several years. The affair was late in starting but when it did start there were more people in costume than have been seen at a Shoreham masquerade for a number of years. Because Mr. Lewis and Mr. Acosta were unable to be judges the holders of this high office were: Mrs. Oliver, Mrs. Callender and Mr. Barnhart. The result was a tie for the most original prize between Mrs. Susmann who was Topsy (not tipsie) and Mrs. George Beatty, who was a pirate with a patch over one eye. These two paraded before the assembled multitudes and by the applause, Mrs. Beatty was chosen the victor. The prettiest costume was that of a Russian peasant, worn by a lady who was visiting C. V. Pallister, Jr. The prize for the funniest costume went to Thomas Miles, who came as a Jewish peddler in an attempt to improve the potato trade in which he is interested in a big way. There was following Mr. Miles a "red" with a sign, "C. I. O. Local No. 244." It seems that even the CIO has gone in for bigger things. Jack Hughes finished this parade of potatoes when he showed up in a potato bag addressed to C. H. Miles and Co. So now it is an open secret how Jack Hughes got to Shoreham.

The feature at the party was Jimmy Cross and his little house complete with Sears Roebuck Catalogue. Finally when Mrs. Gridley and her trained bear, Wentworth Eldridge, came around there was much speculation as to who these people were. So good was their get up that it was impossible to tell who they were until they took off part of their costume. The bear was a bear rug, from the Gridley living room floor, and the trainer was most realistic in his excellent make-up.

The two doctors, Max Finn and Francis Hinsicker, were on hand to operate on any one who would take a chance with hedge clippers and a saw. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott showed how the people dressed in China, and Miss Peggy Elliott was one of the modern bathing beauties complete with long eyebrows, dark glasses, a haat with a six-foot diameter, and a bathing suit that would faint at the sight of water. Mrs. Alfred Varian was out for a prize with an old-fashioned costume that was of a French design and very attractive. Mrs. DuCret thought she would show the folks that she could cook when she came dressed as a French chef.

NEW CLOCK GIVEN TO CLUB

Finally after all this time something has come of the editorials that appeared in the "Scribe" last year. Mrs. L. Okst of the Echo Liquor Store has donated a clock to the club which will be put in service in the near future.

Casts Rehearsing At Shoreham

For the past week the casts for the plays which are to be presented at the Shoreham Country Club have been rehearsing their parts, and they will be all ready to put on these plays on July 30. Mrs. T. K. Elliott who is directing these plays is looking forward to playing to a packed house. Wesley J. Sherman is hard at work on the settings, and Mrs. F. A. Koch has consented to take care of the costumes and also to try and sell tickets outside of Shoreham. Jack Hughes is going to have charge of the program and this year he is going to make it a very interesting program with reading matter that will interest the people who read it. The idea is to make it as much as possible like the program that you get at a play in New York.

Four plays have been chosen and the following casts are rehearsing:

OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF—

Master of Ceremonies, T. K. Elliott; A Sea Captain, Dewitt Bailey; His Wife, Mrs. Alfred Varian; A Girl, Polly Herself.

A LITTLE LEARNING

Mrs. Epstein, Mrs. Rufus McGahen; Yetta Epstein, Miss Peggy McGahen; Sadie, Mrs. Alfred Varian, Jr.; Marian from the Library, Miss Marian Zenke.

A VOICE SAID GOOD NIGHT

Lavery, George Beatty; Bates, James Cross; Belton, Thomas Miles; Chance Crichton, Sheldon DuCret.

THANK YOU DOCTOR

Mrs. Lester, Miss Peggy Elliott; Nurse Gray, Mrs. Maxine Barnhart; Dr. Gurney, Donald McKinnon; A Patient, James Cross; Cort, Albert Barnhart.

CHILDREN HAVE PARTIES

Miss Louise Sackett had her third birthday today, and celebrated it with a party for 14 of the smaller children. Miss Ann Waters and Miss Elizabeth Ingram helped Mrs. Sackett by taking charge of the games at the party and seeing that all the children had a good time. The children who were there were Sally Bates, Susan and John Miles, Sunny and Grace Ann Nulty, Katherine Pallister, Mary and Ellen Varian, Christopher Birch, Quincy Hunsicker, Junior Sarkany and Edward and Annabel Sloane.

Miss Nancy Thurber has issued invitations for a party on July 26

Tennis Coach

George Beatty has undertaken to coach the women of Shoreham in tennis, and he can be seen on the courts every morning. He has not made public his charge—but you know George.

DIRECTOR MILES

Mr. George M. Miles, Director of "Bermuda Bound"

Bridge Luncheon At Shoreham Club

Thursday morning the Shoreham Country Club was the scene of a bridge and luncheon given for the ladies of the community.

Mrs. Bertha Frei was seen playing with her sister, Mrs. Jack Ferris of St. Albans, Mrs. William Rudolf and Mrs. Frank Cross. At another table were Mrs. Edith Gridley, Mrs. Montgomery Lewis, Mrs. Eldridge and Mrs. Oliver. Mrs. T. K. Elliott entertained Mrs. C. F. Hopkins Jr., of Riverside, Va., Mrs. Alfred Varian Jr., and Mrs. Rufus McGahen, while Mrs. Ada Sherman and her daughter-in-law entertained some friends from Miller Place. Mrs. F. E. Beckwith, Mrs. Strausberger, Mrs. Alfred Thurber and her mother seemed to be having a splendid game at one table; Mrs. Carl W. Schultze, Mrs. Alfred W. Varian, Mrs. Cary D. Waters and Mrs. W. D. Van Arnam were at another table. Mrs. Jack Hunsicker, Mrs. Mervin Pallister, Mrs. Thomas Miles and Mrs. John Bates made another foursome.

Some of the guests who came in for just luncheon were Mrs. Daniel Streeter of Brooklyn, Mrs. Haslett, Mrs. Julian Acosta, Mrs. Edwin Stevens of Miller Place, Miss Harriot and Mrs. Herbert Todd, Mrs. Van Vornis, Mrs. Grover Nulty and Miss Barbara Davis. Miss Gladys Koch and three of her friends from Belle Terre came over for luncheon between rehearsals of "Bermuda Bound."

The prizes were attractive, waste-paper baskets from the Mayflower Gift Shop in Port Jefferson, which were donated by Mrs. Julian Acosta.

Shoreham Girls Take Parts In Cast

The Port Jefferson High School tonight and tomorrow night will be the scene of much gaiety and all around good entertainment. For every one there will be "Bermuda Bound"! At least that is the show that is being held under the auspices of the "North Shore Charity League." The performance will have a two-night run and will take place in the air conditioned auditorium of the High School, on Friday and Saturday nights, the 23d and 24th of July.

The show is under the direction of George M. Miles, who has had many years' experience with similar shows. He is pleased with the way in which things are working out, and says, "They always do, so why worry." Assisting Mr. Miles are Mrs. Daniel Perry and Mrs. Charles Tainter, both of Port Jefferson. Miss Julia Oaks, of Setauket, has charge of the properties, and Daniel Perry, of Port Jefferson, is in charge of the production.

Prominent Member of Cast

Miss Madeline Thorpe, of Babylon, L. I., who has had radio and other professional experience and plans to make her opera debut with the Hippodrome Opera Company soon, has volunteered her services and will take an important singing part. Miss Thorpe has been studying under Maestro Alexedo Salmaggi, and in the show she will sing in the number, "Old Bouquet."

There are also several Shoreham girls in the revue. The Shoreham representatives are lead by Miss Gladys Koch, whose Packard "God-fry" has been a great help in getting to rehearsals, and there are two Zenkies and two McGahens to help uphold the Shoreham standards. Also in the cast are those girls from Belle Terre who have been seen going through their paces at the Shoreham Club, Miss Lauraine Childs, Miss Barbara Peck and Miss Irene Chatterton.

A Real Trip to Bermuda

As a side light to the show the league is giving chances on two trips to Bermuda, that cost 25 cents for two chances. The drawing will take place at the High School at the Saturday night performance and the holder of the winning stub need not be present in the audience. These trips are good for one year.

THEATRICALS

There will be two theatrical events of importance in the next two weeks. The first will be the show "Bermuda Bound," at the Port Jefferson High School, and the second will be the strolling players presentation of four one act plays at the Shoreham Country Club.

The biggest and most impressive is "Bermuda Bound," which takes place tonight and tomorrow night. This revue is directed by a paid director, takes place in a rented hall, and has hired costumes. The cast and those in charge however are local people who are taking part for the fun of it. It has been the privilege of the editor to be around and see them work, and he wishes to say that he never saw a group of people cooperate with each other so well before. Much is to be said for the cast, which has been rehearsing twice a day for the past two weeks, but the person who deserves the credit is Mrs. Kiendl, who seems to have charge of everything and takes the credit for nothing. She has been working twelve-hour shifts along with Mr. Miles and has been on deck at all rehearsals just to make sure that everything is going alright. The next two nights will tell what can be accomplished on a large scale of production. It is from now on in the hands of the cast,—what they do is going to make or break the work of all for the past two weeks.

The four one-act plays that are being given at Shoreham next Friday night, have no paid director, Mrs. Elliott is a combination Mrs. Kiendl and Mr. Miles and has the whole job to do herself. The hall is the clubhouse with a portable stage, and the costumes are made on the spot. This program cannot be compared with the production "Bermuda Bound," as it is not at all the same kind of production. However they both have the same amount of fun and will give equal amounts of entertainment, but of two entirely different kinds. In the Shoreham even more is up to the characters in the plays as they must learn their parts by themselves and in some cases will be able to have only a few rehearsals before the final curtain. Each play is a unit in itself and must be able to stand alone. Also all the units must pull together for one bad play will spoil the program.

In recent years the "Strolling Players" have been dead in Shoreham. At the time that the club was undergoing its rebirth, the interest in dramatics, which was once an important part of the Shoreham program, was lacking. The people just refused to be in plays. However, this year a rebirth in the "Strolling Players" is expected and so far it has gotten along fine. It is up to the people of Shoreham to keep the interest alive.

Cooperation is the one thing that makes the world go and there is no better place to find it than in theatricals of all kinds. The cast must cooperate. The director must cooperate. The stagehands must cooperate. And last and most important, the audience must cooperate. You are the audience—a lot is up to you; be there and support the cast. They have worked hard for your entertainment.

Caroline Church Of Brookhaven

[Editor's Note: Bermuda Bound is being given for the benefit of the Caroline Church of Brookhaven. The Editor thought it would be a good idea to have something of its history appear in this issue of the Sounder. The following was supplied by the Rev. R. Thomas Blomquist, who is now the Rector of the Church.]

Looking back to the early days of the village of Setauket, which was established in 1655 as Brookhaven, we discover that the first church here organized may have been Anglican.

In 1671, the Town Records show that William Satterly was ordered "to be in the place of a church warden" to see that minister's salary was paid.

In July of 1729 there appeared on the scene as rector, one Rev. Alexander Campbell, whose leadership inspired the building of the present church structure. During his rectorship, Queen Wilhelmina-Karoline of Brandenburg-Anspach, Queen of George II, gave the church a silver communion service and some fine embroidered altar cloths. The communion service is still in the possession of the congregation. It is interesting to note that previous to this royal gift, the name had been Christ Church, but in 1730 was changed to Caroline, in honor of the gracious queen.

The floors throughout the building are covered with wide pine boards, some as wide as 16 inches.

Proceeding to the period of the Revolutionary War, we discover that Setauket was a place of considerable importance. Under the walls of the church was fought the "Battle of Setauket" on Aug. 2, 1777, the marks of which struggle are still evident in the building. Some of the wounded, it is said, were cared for in the church while the battle raged outside. During the British occupation the services at Caroline Church must have been officially favored.

SOUNDINGS

AROUND

BELLE TERRE—MILLER PLACE

By Irene Chatterton

Mr. Lawrence Chatterton will be guest of his cousin, Miss Irene Chatterton for the week-end.

Mrs. Nelson Hughes will have her sister and brother-in-law down for the week-end.

Mrs. Ainsworth Smith has her niece and nephew, Bobby and Ruth Joan visiting her for the week.

SHOREHAMITES

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Kilmer, of New York City, will be the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sackett. Mrs. C. F. Hopkins, Jr., is now visiting the Sacketts.

Mrs. John Brooks and her daughters, Betty and Patricia, will visit the Davis family this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon R. Walsh and their son, Walter, Jr., of Rockville Center, will be the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Nulty. Mrs. Nulty says that these guests are no relation in spite of the fact that their name is Walsh which as most Shorehamites know was Mrs. Nulty's maiden name. Last Tuesday Mrs. Nulty entertained Kathleen Fitzgerald, Helen McKenney and Elizabeth Rielly at her home in Shoreham.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Mac Morris, of Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley White, of Kew Gardens, L. I., will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Koch over the week-end. Also Ted Whiting, of Saltair, will be the guest of Miss Gladys Koch.

Mr. and Mrs. Hogeboom will have as their guests over the week-end Mr. and Mrs. William T. Sing, of Garden City, and they will entertain with a supper party before the Old Field Show on Saturday night returning to the dance at Shoreham. Mrs. Hogeboom had a luncheon for eight last Wednesday.

Mrs. Wesley J. Sherman will give a shower on Sunday to the intimate friends of Marietta Collins, of Miller Place and Brooklyn, who will marry Mr. Thomas Farrell of Brooklyn, July 31.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brandon of Montclair, N. J., will be the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery H. Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. John Quincy Hunsicker have purchased the former home of Mrs. Griffith on Briarcliff road, Shoreham Estates. They will have it ready for occupancy next summer.

Ralph Malm and Jackson Cross wish it announced that they are giving a cocktail party at the Cross home before the dance this Saturday night. They hope that all their friends will come early so that they can get to the dance early.

Alden Stanton spent last Saturday and Sunday with Jackson Cross. This week-end he will have as guests Mr. and Mrs. James G. Elliman.

The Very Rev. Eimile S. Hauper and Mrs. Hauper accompanied by their daughter, Penelope, spent last week-end with Mrs. Frank Bethel Cross. Mr. Hauper is Dean of Christ Church Cathedral, Sacramento, California. With them was their niece, Miss Helen Elizabeth Hauper, a senior at Stanford University.

Something Else New

There is still something that is new in Shoreham this year which seemed so natural where it is that not even the Editor saw it when he was looking around for those things that were new this year. It took one of the village fathers to point it out to him. This is the new overhead light at the corner of Woodville and Overhill Roads.

It has been reported by the same Village Father that since its installation there has been no recurrence of the previous question that took place there. Neither have there been any prowlers or burglars, although the latter may be due to the dance last winter of the Chief of Police.

This same person said that to lessen the danger at this same place, the curb and grass spot on the outside of the store should be removed and the entire section made into a roadway. If this were done, he pointed out, it would be the end of the last real driving hazard in the in the village.

NO DEVELOPMENTS

IN PARSONS CASE

There are absolutely no new developments in the Parsons kidnap case despite the best efforts of G-men and State and county police to penetrate the six-weeks-old mystery surrounding the disappearance of the prominent Stony Brook matron.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT DANCE HAS NEW FEATURES

The Wednesday night children's dance that was held at the club this week had several new and interesting features. The hostess, Mrs. A. Barnhart, and her assistant, Mrs. George Beatty, gave the children many games and grand prizes. The winners of these prizes were: For the best picture made out of chewing gum, Buddy Sherman; musical chairs, Winifred Munday; lucky number dance, Mary Varlan; chair dance, Mary Fickett; lemon dance, Winifred Munday and Patricia Sherman. The most unusual contest was the amateur talent contest which was won by a piano duet by Jean and Barbara Sarkany.

ECHO LIQUOR

STORE ENLARGED

The Echo Liquor Store which is situated at Port Jefferson Station has been enlarged to twice its original size. This makes it possible to display wines and liquors that have been otherwise in the back-ground. The manager wants it known that they will deliver to places as far away as Shoreham at a moment's notice.
