FIFTEEN CENTS

Vote Defeats Proposal to Close School

After Heated Argument Decision Is To Keep Shoreham School Open

The special meeting of the Shoreham School District which was held at the schoolhouse last Friday night was a most interesting meeting at which there was a long discussion on the proposition of whether or not the Shoreham school should remain open with only a small number of pupils. In spite of the fact that in the end there were only fourteen votes cast it was the largest representation that any school meeting in this district has had for a long time.

The meeting was called to order about 8:45 p. m. by Donald B. Upham, one of the trustees of the district. Mr. Upham was then elected chairman of this special meeting.

Mrs. Beckwith asked for the floor and presented to the meeting the following resolution:

Resolved: That it is the sentiment of this meeting that, whenever the number of pupils in grades 1 to 6 in this district falls below 12, it would be for the best interests of the pupils and of the taxpayers to temporarily physically close this school and pay tuition and transportation for said pupils to a nearby larger district.

She stated that in her position as treasurer of the district she could not help but notice the large costs of maintaining the school for the six pupils who were then attending. She maintained that she had no criticism of the teacher or the management of the school in any way. A. W. Varian asked just what the saving would be if this resolution were to be adopted. After a fast argument, those people at the meeting finally decided that it cost at present $2,700 to maintain the

"NITE CLUB" NIGHT PLANS UNDER WAY

Shoreham's annual "Nite Club" night will be held on the evening of Sept. 3, at the Shoreham Country Club. Like all other "Nite Club" nights in the last couple of years the club will be decorated in some new and startling way. So far this year the committee has been very quiet about its plans for decoration and the strongest measures have failed to make them give out this secret.

However the committee has been very free in giving out the program for that evening. There will be two choruses that have been coached by Miss Jantzer, one in Shag and another in the Rhumba. There will be specialties done by the Stevens sisters, Ann Waters and Tom Hughes, and Peggy Elliott and Gladys Koch. Also included on the program will be two blackouts.

Jitney Players To Present Cinnamon Cinders Tonight

The Jitney Players of Shoreham present for a one night stand this evening at the Shoreham Country Club a two act play "Cinnamon Cinders." The curtain will go up at 8:30 o'clock, and like all Jitney Players' productions there will be no admission charges and all Shoreham is invited to attend. The play has been directed by Mrs. John L. Hogeboom and boasts of a cast of over twenty characters.

All events take place aboard a new luxury liner that is about to sail from New York harbor for a fifteen day pleasure cruise. The ship is known as the ship without a name and the purpose of the cruise is to get a name for the ship. There will be a contest held on the ship for the purpose of finding a name and the one selected must be the result of events which occur during the fifteen day cruise with a $1,000 award going to the contest winner.

So it is advised that all hands be on deck for the sailing at 8:30 o'clock this evening.

Colonial Party Is Being Planned for Children's Mid-Week Dance

Mrs. Geysa Sarkany will be the hostess at the mid-week dance this coming Wednesday night and she has planned to make it a party that will be long remembered by the children. It is to be a colonial evening with the girls wearing long dresses and the boys with black coats will wear white jabots, while the boys with white coats are requested to wear large black bow ties.

It will be an evening of contests and prizes from the beginning until the end. The program will open with a grand march and a Paul Jones. Next will follow an exhibition waltz contest with two prizes to be awarded—one for a boy and one for a girl. There will be an amateur hour broadcast at which the judges, who will be Mrs. T. K. Elliott, Mrs. W. D. Van Arnam, Mrs. A. W. Varian and Dewitt Bailey, will award three prizes. One for the best performance, for the most poise, and one for the most original. This will be followed by a shag contest, refreshments, and an old-fashioned Virginia Reel. There will be a door prize for some lucky person.

Because of this party on Wednesday night Miss Jantzer will hold an extra dancing class on Thursday evening. At this class there will be a demonstration of the babies' dancing class which is held Thursday morning. This babies' demonstration will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

EAGLES OPEN CLUBHOUSE

The Eagle Club officially opened their clubhouse last Wednesday when they entertained the Eaglet Club and their friends. After the cake, ice cream and candy had disappeared the guests went to the home of Jimmy Brandon where they played croquet and archery.

Among the guests present were Bud Sherman, Ed Barnhart, Rene Laurencot, officers, Jimmy Brandon, Harry Laurencot, Pat Sherman, Claire, Jeanne and Lauraine Laurencot, Jeanne Rudolph, Toby Rudolph, Sue Miles, Betsey Keedy and Fritz Van Arnam.

Tennis Tournaments Take Spotlight Here During Last Week-end

The singles tennis tournament which was begun several weeks ago was brought to an end last Sunday morning when C. V. Pallister, Jr. downed Bill Davis by the score of 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

This final result was unexpected by some who predicted that when Davis still had three matches to go that he would come out on top and become the champion of Shoreham. However, beginning last Saturday morning Davis played three matches inside of two days. In the quarter-finals he easily defeated Bill Hagenah 6-3, 6-2, only to come up against Don MacKinnon in the semi-finals on the same afternoon. This match went to Davis by the score of 3-6, 6-2, 6-0. Also in the semi-finals C. V. Pallister, Jr., downed R. D. Warden, Jr., 3-6, 6-1, 6-4.

When it came time for the semi-final round the courts took on an appearance which they had not taken since the last Wading River-Shoreham Labor Day Tennis Tournament. The referee's tables were dragged out and from then on the matches were run by the proper officials. At the finals, which were held the following day, spectators were protected from the boiling hot sun by large beach umbrellas, a piece of ingenuity which has not been seen in Shoreham before.

So while the spectators kept cool under umbrellas Davis and Pallister fought out the final match.

The play throughout the entire match was rapid and interesting to watch. The serves of both players were working well and each had his share of placement shots. Pallister kept the edge throughout all but the second set which he lost.

Directly following the match the silver trophy was presented to Mr. Pallister by Bob Oliver, chairman of the athletic committee.

When it was seen that the singles tennis tournament was such a success

An eight and three-quarter pound baby boy was born in New York City to Mr. and Mrs. George Beatty of Shoreham at ten o'clock last Wednesday morning.

Anniversary Party at Club Is a Success

Dove and Turtle Supper And One-Act Play Are High Spots in Evening

The 25th anniversary of the incorporation of the village of Shoreham was celebrated in a grand manner at the Shoreham Country Club last Saturday evening.

The evening began with a buffet supper that was served from 7:30 until almost 10 p. m. At this supper the Dove and Turtle did themselves proud with the large assortment of meats, fish, salads and relishes. The talk of the meal was the hot dish that was something like stev only different. It was reported by the club's "Lord High Keeper of the Books," Wesley J. Sherman, that there were one hundred and twenty people at the buffet supper.

At about 10 o'clock in the evening the orchestra played a medley of tunes that were popular from 1913 through the 25 years they have passed since that time. This was followed by a short speech by the president of the club, J. W. Hallett. However, this speech was only an introduction to Alfred W. Varian who in turn made a speech that served only to introduce R. D. Warden, saying "Mr. Warden's father bought the land from the Indians and here is Mr. Warden to tell you about it." Mr. Warden went back into the dim dark past history of Shoreham and told about the rumor that still goes around that Captain Kidd used to keep his treasure and his women somewhere near Shoreham. He went on to tell

DANCING EXHIBITION AT CLUB TOMORROW NIGHT

As a special treat for those attending the regular Saturday night dance at the Shoreham Country Club this week-end, there will be presented a special dance exhibition. The exhibition will be given by Donald Sawyer and Miss P. R. Jantzer. Miss Jantzer needs no introduction to Shoreham residents, and neither should her partner whose fame internationally is almost as great as the local fame of Miss Jantzer.

Mr. Sawyer is known as "America's Authority" on ballroom dancing. His dancing is known throughout Europe and America where people who appreciate the art of ballroom dancing widely acclaim him because of his grace, poise and technique. He is also popular among the dancing teachers and is asked to dance for teachers' conventions all over the country.

In Shoreham this Saturday night at the "stroke of midnight" Mr. Sawyer and Miss Jantzer will put on their exhibition of the Viennese Waltz and the Rhumba.

While almost everyone likes dogs since they can be good protectors and of great help to man, there is no reason why so many dogs in Shoreham should be getting out of hand. There is, in the first place, an ordinance in the village that no dogs are to be allowed on the beach without a muzzle or a leash. But every day the Shoreham police force has himself a gay time chasing the dogs off the beach. The trouble is that there are too many young children there to allow dogs to run loose. There have been several cases of dogs chasing children and frightening them, not only on the beach, but in other places. There have also been some children bitten by dogs. To be sure the children might have been molesting the dog in which case there is no reason why that dog has not a perfect right to protect himself. It is as important to teach children to leave dogs alone, as it is to keep the dogs in check. But how did it happen that the dog was in a place where it was possible for the child to molest it?

Some dog owners think it is cruel to leave a dog tied up in the back yard but it seems it is much better for the dog to be tied up than to have the dog where he can be molested and maybe have to resort to biting some child.

Since Shoreham is essentially a children's haven, we can't suggest that they be tied in the back yard.

Another thing that is causing trouble for the Shoreham police and to be remedied will require the cooperation of all the village is the trouble that is being had with house to house salesmen who come into the village. Most of the people in the community do not want these people bothering them and it is up to the entire community to help in keeping them out by not buying from them.

The police, however, have quite a time trying to take care of these pests and have run into many snags in trying to carry out their duty in this line. Some time ago the chief of police tried to stop every peddler who came around and succeeded to such an extent that in one morning he had no less than ten phone calls from Shoreham residents who complained that he had stopped people from coming in from whom they had been buying for years. Since then it has been the policy to allow only those people into the village who have regular customers.

On the other hand the magazine salesmen and others continue to come in and the Shorehamites buy from them. Recently when two of these men were asked by the police what they were doing in Shoreham they said that they were related to some of the Shoreham residents, giving definite names. However, only one look showed that they couldn't be related to these people and they were sent out.

There is at the present time a regulation on the village statutes which requires that all peddlers be required to get a permit from the village and pay a fee for being allowed to come into the village. This regulation was made with the idea of keeping these peddlers out of the village but it seems to have defeated its purpose because they come in anyway, paying no attention to the regulation. The fee is so high that there are almost no peddlers whom it would pay to take out the permit. Therefore if the police were to enforce the regulation they would have to keep a lot of tradespeople out from whom Shoreham residents wish to buy. On the other hand how can the police keep some people out or require that they pay a fee if the majority pays no such a fee.

It seems only reasonable that this regulation be looked into. And it might be pointed out that a smaller fee and a request from some Shoreham residents be required to allow peddlers to come into Shoreham would be a much fairer way of settling the matter. With this case, Shorehamites should request that they see the peddlers' permit before they buy anything.

In the meantime they should cooperate by not buying from the peddlers who are not usually seen around here. In other words do not buy from the men whom you do not think would be given a permit if a regulation requiring permits were strictly enforced.

Shoreham, L. I., N. Y.
Dear Mr. Van Arnham:

Due to a very poor response to similar advertising, it was with a well, we can't lose much attitude that we agreed to run a small ad in the Sounder featuring our dry cleaning service, when you approached us early this summer.

We want you to know that we have completely lost this attitude due to the exceptional increase in business in this department which we are able to trace directly to this ad.

Needless to say you may count us a consistent advertiser for the balance of this season and please don't fail to call on us when you line up next season's advertisers.

With best wishes for the continued success of your smart little publication.

Very truly yours,

KOHLMANN TAKES TO THE AIR

Jack Kohlmann, after some investigation into the matter of aeroplanes, has purchased a Fairchild 21 biplane. Ed Wormald has undertaken the job of teaching Jack to fly his new ship. The plane was seen over Shoreham last Sunday with its 120 horse-power 6-cylinder Ranger motor going along at a fine clip.

Jack is doing this flying preparatory to entering an aviation school in the fall, to learn to be a transport pilot.

Jack and Ed plan to leave Thursday for the Cleveland air races with the idea of taking air pictures of the races. Ed reported that Jack would probably do most of the flying and that he would do the navigating during the trip.

ANNIVERSARY PARTY AT CLUB IS A BIG SUCCESS

about the changes and other important things that have happened in Shoreham since that time. Especially about the incorporation of the village for which C. V. Pallister is definitely responsible.

"A Sunny Morning," the one act play that had been directed by Mrs. T. K. Elliott and was superbly acted by Blossom Varian and Dewitt Bailey was presented directly following the speeches. The Country Club was changed into a Madrid park by the use of about twenty or more pine trees which made a beautiful setting for the play. The play told of the meeting of Donna Laura (played by Blossom Varian) and Don Gonzales (played by Dewitt Bailey) on a bench in a sunny Madrid park. After several crisp and snappy stinging remarks that these two old aristocrats threw at each other on what they thought was their first meeting, each found out that they had been lovers in their youth but tried to conceal their true identity by talking of their love affair as if it were something that had happened to two other people. Mrs. Varian and Mr. Bailey were adequately supported by Miss Ann Waters and Bob Fontaine.

This makes the fourth one act play that Mrs. Varian and Mr. Bailey have done together in Shoreham. It was the most difficult they had ever attempted. It has a more serious plot than any of the previous plays and the humor was much more subtle.

However it is hardly worth while

George R. Forbes Jr., of South Orange, N. J., arrives tomorrow to spend a week with Frederic D. Van Arnham Sr.

Miss Ursula Ballman is the guest of the Sarkany's.

Emmerson Knowles arrives Sunday to the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Cary D. Waters. His mother, Mrs. Kenneth Knowles, will return to Center Island with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Bennett Jr., and daughter, Joanne, will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery H. Lewis over the week-end.

Miss Marian Zenke has as her guest Fred Michell of Jackson Heights. A. Ronald Schiller of Greenwich, Conn., will be the guest of Miss Lassie Zenke.

Twenty-five members were present at the meeting of the Shoreham Garden Club held at the Country Club on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bartle and Mr. Smith have been the guests of Mrs. Bertha Frei.

Mrs. William Rudolph, Mrs. Natalie Burr and Miss Winifred Burr left yesterday for a motor trip to Lake Placid.

at this time to try to speak on how well the play was produced and what a fine job its actors did with it. Everybody who felt the congratulations were in order for those participating in the performance wasted no time in seeing that the congratulations were delivered to the right persons last Saturday night. Two large bouquets were presented to Mrs. Varian at the finish of the performance.

Wes Oliver, C. V. Pallister Jr., Bob Olmstead and Bob Oliver led in some songs while the trees were being removed from the dance floor. And like most other stage sets that require a long time to be built it took just about two minutes to get the trees off of the dance floor and into the gully.

Another feature of the evening was singing happy birthday to the village of Shoreham using special words which had been written by George Beatty and went as follows:

"Happy birthday dear —
Incorporated village of Shoreham
Cary D. Waters, Mayor
Speed limit 20 miles per hour
Tax rate 5%
Stop for Lewis' slow sign
Wesley J. Sherman, clerk
Distress property for sale or rent
— Happy birthday to you.

Shoreham school at its present status, and, that if the resolution were adopted, there would be a total saving of about $1,500. This saving, making in the end so slight a difference to each taxpayer and also considering that the taxpayers in the Shoreham district have the lowest assessment rate of any nearby district, made it seem that the question of money saved in closing the school was almost negligible.

At this point Mrs. Beckwith brought up the other argument which had up till now been forgotten. She claimed that the question of money was not her real reason for presenting the resolution now before the meeting. She stated that she felt that the children did not receive adequate competition at the Shoreham school and that she felt they should go to a school where there would be more children. Mrs. Beckwith might just as well have dropped a bombshell into the school room considering the discussion that arose. Everyone tried to talk at once and nobody seemed to care what the other ones had to say. It got so bad that Mr. Upham had to clap his hands and shout for order. Mrs. J. T. Miles brought in the fact that her daughter, Sue, who spends part of the winter at school in Shoreham and the rest of the winter in Florida got far more out of the time when she was in Shoreham than she got in a class where she had considerable competition. It was also pointed out that the Shoreham pupils made good marks in Port Jefferson High School and that any shyness or lost feeling that the pupils had upon entering larger classes for the first time lasted for only a short time.

Mr. Thurber and several others who are parents of children pointed out that they did not think that it was a good thing for children who were that young to have to leave Shoreham; and, he summed it up that it seemed a matter that the district could not afford to take upon themselves the responsibility of sending children to and from school by bus and that the $1,500 was not an adequate return for such a risk. Finally the question was brought to a vote and the resolution was defeated 10-4. The meeting was adjourned by Alfred Varian and the question was dropped.

MOTOR BOAT TURNS OVER

Three Shorehamites were on the clubhouse porch this afternoon watching a motor boat speeding around out past the big raft. One of the watchers said "I'll bet that boat goes over," and just then over it went.

The Shoreham lifeguard went out and pulled the man in the boat to shore. The boat had an Elto 32 outboard motor on it and the owner, Edwin Luerssen, of Hallock's Landing, was trying out a new condenser when he made a sharp turn and went over.

OLD FIELD—STONY BROOK
The annual North Shore Horse Show which took place Thursday, Friday and Saturday near the Old Field Club was the big event of the year in Old Field. Preceding the opening session Thursday was a buffet lunch given by Mrs. Ward Melville in the tack room of her stables. Following the first session was a dinner given for the senior exhibitors at Mrs. Melville's home and a dinner and informal dance for the junior exhibitors at the Old Field Club. Friday night featured a Dutch-treat dinner at the Old Field Club and Saturday Mrs. Frank Melville gave a buffet luncheon there. The horse show ended Saturday night in the height of festivities with the horse show ball. The clubhouse was gaily decorated with hundreds of red and white balloons which lent the proper festive atmosphere for the occasion.

A special feature of the North Shore Horse Show was the exhibition of three genuine Arabian horses with riders in full costume. The gay attire of the riders and the attractive mounts were quite spectacular as they raced around the ring.

 cess the request was made for a doubles tournament to be held. This tournament was announced at the dance Saturday night with the stipulation that entries must be handed in immediately so that the first round of the tournament could be held the next day. In spite of this short notice, there were ten teams entered in the tournament. However, of the ten teams entered six of them drew byes in the first round.

The two first round matches were Frei-Barnhart over Beatty-Kohlman, 6-2, 6-4; Warden-Heiss over Laurencot-Hazlett, 6-4, 6-1. From this Frei and Barnhart battled it out with Warden and Heiss to see who would go into the semi-finals. The play went to the Frei-Barnhart combination to the tune of 6-3, 7-5.

At this point the rest of the tournament is heard from, with all of the participants having sneaked by the first round without even lifting a racquet. However, here we find quite an upset when Hughes and Van Arnam take over Hagenah and Bartle, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3. Other wins were MacKinnon and C. V. Pallister, Jr., over Cross and Finn, 7-5, 6-3, and, Dave Pallister and Bill Davis over Anthony and Bates, 6-1, 6-3.

The semi-finals in the doubles tournament which will be between the combinations of Frei-Barnhart vs. Hughes-Van Arnam, and MacKinnon-C. V. Pallister, Jr., vs. D. Pallister-Davis will be held Saturday afternoon about five o'clock. The winners of these matches will play for the doubles championship sometime on Sunday. The exact time will be announced at the club Saturday night.
